

"I have always pinned my faith
to that spirit which is slowly coming into its own in America."

Here's to one, of many, bold New Years!

Warm greetings from the Emma Goldman Papers

Speak up... Imagine... Take Action... Cheers!

EMMA GOLDMAN PAPERS PROJECT

University of California, Berkeley ✱ 2241 Channing Way ✱ Berkeley, CA 94704
phone: (510) 642-4708 ✱ e-mail: emma@berkeley.edu ✱ web site: <http://sunsite.berkeley.edu/Goldman>

Please help support our work with a tax-deductible contribution to the "Regents of the University of California — designated to the Emma Goldman Papers."

* Order ****

Order your copies of the first two of four volumes of our series Emma Goldman: A Documentary History of the American Years 1890-1919
Published by the University of California Press; newly released paperback by the University of Illinois Press

* Quote ****

From Emma Goldman's draft of the essay "American By Comparison" written for, but never published in, Colliers Magazine, while in exile in London, January 1925. Located on reel 50 of our 20,000 document collection 'Emma Goldman: A Comprehensive Microfilm' published in tandem with 'Emma Goldman: A Guide to Her Life and Documentary Sources.' Original manuscript housed at the International Institute for Social History, Amsterdam, Emma Goldman Archive.

* Newspaper Sketches ****

Front circular portrait: Great Falls Daily Tribune, 8 June 1908. The Doctrine Preached by Emma Goldman
Inside drawings of Emma in action: San Francisco Examiner, 27 April 1898. Article headings and subheadings: "Patriotism" Her Subject, Emma Goldman, The Woman Anarchist, Treats of her Theme from an Extremely Pessimistic Point of View, The Motto of Order, 'The World Is Our Country To Do Good Our Only Religion' — Other Lectures to Follow"

2008-2009 Holiday-New Year card designed by Andrea Sohn, niece of the late Sarah Crome who helped found the Emma Goldman Papers in 1980.

